COTTAGE CLASS OF JUNE, 1937—LOG

IN THE fall of 1934 a group of little sophomores came wonderingly through the gates of "Roosevelt Village" to begin their high school lives amid cottages and mud puddles. Their stay here was one of the most colorful and eventful periods in the history of Roosevelt High. Almost as if by magic a modern one-story structure sprang up from the foundations of the old one; came a few days of general excitement and then students deserted cottages to return once again to the building. During this time, too, a change was made in the administration and a new principal came to preside over the school. Today, the portals of Roosevelt High School swing wide to allow a group of grownup high seniors to file out into the world, leaving behind them three of the happiest years of their lives. The three most important senior activities, the Senior Ball, the Senior Assembly and Graduation during the final two weeks of school end the high school career of the seniors. The ball is the main social affair. At the senior assembly, high seniors bid the school farewell. Finally comes graduation—diplomas are received, and another class departs from Roosevelt.

In the years to come, seniors may look over their high school days in retrospect, and see much to gladden their days.

FIRST THE SOPHOMORE YEAR:

August, 1934—Term begins and sophs get their first taste of high school life, as the village is opened.

September 27—Del Eisen, Jack Stafford, Harriet Schlavin, Bill Gilliland, Perry Bardellini, and Tobias Ellenburg, former junior high leaders are the first "scrubs" to break into print, being named as possibilities for future leaders in high school activities.

October 4—Low ten homeroom representatives elected and include Harriet Schlavin, Gladys McCarthy, Margaret Anderson, Francis Kimmel, Joe Vogel, LeRoy Nelson and Del Eisen. Geraldine DeSeguirant and Lulu May Stevenson are yodeling sophomore cowgirls.

October 11—Cabinet member from the low ten is Del Eisen. Two sophomore girls, Harriet Schlavin and Geraldine Coughlin, chosen as leaders of their gym class.

October 18—Mother's Evening finds Mary Doren and Phyllis Hansen singing with a group of girls.

December 13—Tommy Fitzpatrick places Joe Spangler, Del Eisen and Jim Pastor on his second team for football.

January 30, 1935—Term closes.

January 31, 1935—New term begins. "High and mighty sophomores" make their appearance.

February 7—Harriet Schlavin attained an all "A" record for term grades in the low ten. Student body card salesmen from the H10 are Joe Michel, Del Eisen, and Rae Davies. Carol Frost, Ed Cryer, and Harriet Schlavin enlighten their low ten brethren with orientation talks. Del Eisen becomes a Hi-Y member.

February 21—La Verne Remmers treats Mr. Doxsee to bites of her popsicles at the games. The baseball team claims Bill Leahy, Jim Pastor, Augie Cova, and Del Eisen.

February 28—Bobbie Hoover chosen archery manager, with Ella Hanzel assisting her.

March 7—Harriet Schlavin and Esther Knight participate in March Frolic.

March 21—H10 class representatives are Del Eisen, Toby Ellenburg, Jeanne Smith, Elizabeth Althaus, and Ed Morris.

March 28—Class officers elected—Joe Vogel, president; Ed Morris, vice-president; Jeanne Smith, secretary; and Del Eisen, cabinet representative. Crimson popularity contest finds Toby Ellenburg, the winner. Augie Cova, Nelson Dawson, and Jim Pastor prominent in baseball; Bob Whitlow proves himself a good pitcher in game with Westlake.

May 9—Augie Cova prominent soph pitcher.

May 16—Phyllis Hansen, LeRoy Nelson, John Hutzler, Leslie Logue, and Wilmer Jackson tell about their hobbies.

May 23—G.A.A. treasurer is Harriet Schlavin.

May 31—Bob Whitlow has a batting average of 500 at end of season.

June—Term closes once again.

THEN THE JUNIOR YEAR:

August 27, 1935—Back to school as juniors with a much brighter outlok on life. Downtrodden sophs no longer.

September 5—Those attending G.A.A. party hear monologue by Phyllis Hansen. Ed Cryer and Bob Whitlow return to golf team.

September 19—Homeroom representatives elected. Victors are Joe Vogel, Clifford Weiss, Joe Costa, Harriet Schlavin, Wilma Kepford, Anna Bay, and Amy Wood. From the feature page of the Crimson we find that Bernie Walsh has taken up swimming.

October 24—"Impressions" on feature page written by Phyllis Hansen, is declared superior to other articles on the page.

November 7—Crimson cub edition with Gerald Dean, as editor-in chief; Phyllis Hansen, feature editor, and Jack McGann and Bob Whitlow heading sports department. From the feature page we learn that Nelson Dawson, Maria Denend, and Jimmy Pastor eat candy in class and throw the wrappers on the floor.

CLASS LOG (Continued)

December 5—Gerry De Seguirant's face becomes red after sticking her finger on her guitar and yelling "ouch" just before the junior prom. Jim Corbett has earmarks of a future basketball star.

December 12—Remember when: Mabel Martin did a hula at the Palace Theater long ago; Johnnie Hutzler sang over Brother Bob's Children's Hour; Bill Leahy used to throw spit balls? We learn that: Bob Whitlow wants "a doll that says 'mamma'," and Lolly Remmers wants "a very large mirror" for Christmas. Toby Ellenburg and Joe Vogel make themselves seen and heard at Laurel dance. Sylvia Bruce, Harriet Schlavin and Betty McAndrew are on committee for the G.A.A. Christmas party. Margaret Anderson elected G.A.A. secretary.

January 21—1936—Fall term closes finding students ready to begin their H11 year.

February 6—All A's received by Jack Stafford for L11. In the tryouts for the various sports, Nelson Dawson showed up well in the 440 in track, while Jim Pastor and Remo Meneketti did their share in baseball.

February 27—Joe Vogel is secretary of the Traffic Club. Representing the homeroms are Dorothy Clark, Joe Vogel, Jack McGann, Sylvia Bruce, Manuel Ezidro, and Del Eisen.

March 5—According to the feature page, Del Eisen can't leave the clay alone in the art class. Lolly Remmers thinks she can play volley ball with one hand—Miss Hobbs doesn't. Margaret Anderson finds pleasure in painting the yell-leaders megaphones with lip-stick when no one is looking.

March 12—Noon dance committee members include Dot Basl, Joe Vogel and Jim Corbett. Ed Cryer and "Swede" Nelson look promising in the low hurdles for track.

March 19—Lariat salesmen from the H11 class are Harriet Schlavin, Dot Basl, Margaret Anderson, Jim Corbett, Jim Pastor, Jack McGann and Gerald Dean. Impressions: Broadway's Beau Brummel—Jim Corbett. Eiichi Suzakawa held highest score in Hearst Rifle contest.

March 29—Jack McGann chosen secretary of the school cabinet. Allowing only two singles in the game, Bob Whitlow made a fine showing against the Alameda Hornets.

April 2—Roosevelt's representatives to the press convention at Cal. included Lionel Holmes, Phyllis Hansen, Elinor Kenaston, Jack McGann, and Gerald Dean.

April 16—At the Junior Prom Mary Jane Anderson dances, and a violin solo is given by Mary Doren. LeRoy Nelson came in second in low hurdles against Oakland High. Rae Davies is rated as one of the smoothest girls around and about Roosevelt.

April 23—Bob Whitlow continues to star as pitcher at the baseball games.

May 7—May festival held, with Eleanor Winnie, Mary Jane Anderson, and Dot Basl taking an active part in making it a success. Glenn Dahlquist helps clean Rollerland floor at the Hi-Y skating party.

May 14—O.P.H.A. pin awarded to Phyllis Hansen. Drum Major John McGillivray takes second place in R.O.T.C. band competition. Bob Whitlow, Augie Cova, and Norman Pudlack star in game against Fremont. We all got a treat when Rae Davies gave a tap dance in front of the school. Classes go back into the building; excitement reigns.

May 21—Harriet Schlavin receives her winged "R".

May 28—Next fall's football team is expected to be held up by Jim Pastor, Captain Del Eisen, and LeRoy Nelson. Promotions in R.O.T.C. awarded to Ted Saling, Don Parmeter, and Eiichi Suzakawa.

June 12—Semester ends.

August 30—1936—Back to school again as mighty seniors!

September 17—Crimson staff appointed, with Lionel Holmes as associate editor, Phyllis Hansen and Gerald Dean, feature editors; Howie Thomas and Jack McGann sports editors; and Elinor Kenaston, news editor. L12 Ecoria representatives chosen—they are Jack McGann and Eleanor Winnie.

October 1—Some famous sayings—"Hey listen!" Betty McAndrews; and "Pretty good, eh?" Mary Jane Anderson. Wanted: a large club to keep the women away from Nelson Dawson. Forgiveness was given Margaret Anderson for striking the "birds" where they weren't in badminton.

CLASS LOG (Concluded)

October 2—Orientation talks given by Maria Denend and Bernie Campbell. Dave Douglass cuts paper dolls in class.

October 8—Remember when Dave Douglass haunted the halls with that H11 girl? Ted Saling, Eiichi Suzakawa, and Don Parmeter were three of an escort for Archie Williams, Olympic champion, at the Oakland Auditorium.

October 12—Johnny Matulich and Norman Pudlack play with blocks in class. High scholarship records made by Jack Stafford, Ella Hanzel, Harriet Schlavin, and Elinor Kenaston, among others. Lionel Holmes and Gerald Dean attend press meet at Stanford.

October 15—A skit was presented by Phyllis Hansen at the assembly. Associate editor Lionel Holmes will receive his Eagle Badge soon. Block "R" members sell peanuts, ice cream, and candy at the games.

October 29—Eleanor Winnie is playing traitoress to Roosevelt by going with a Castlemont lad. Dot Basl has coined the expression "nay" "nerve."

November 19—Senior prom attended by many low twelves. Dave Knops and Elinor Kenaston are business manager and publicity chairman, respectively, for the Junior Statesman magazine. Margaret Anderson's oar merrily floated away to be captured by another boat at crew today.

December 3—Entertaining at the Block "R" theater party were Dot Basl, Mary Jane Anderson, and Howie Thomas.

December 10—An O.P.H.A. pin was awarded to Elinor Kenaston, the sole candidate from Roosevelt, at the banquet at Castlemont.

May—Find seniors looking forward.

JUST A LAST WORD

A man cannot swim without water, neither can a president of a class carry out his term without the aid and encouragement of his fellow students and the faculty. Without this help any attempt would be futile. To the students and faculty I wish to express my appreciation; it is to these persons that the term's apparent success should be attributed, and I sincerely thank you all. May good luck and happiness be the lot of each member of the June Class of 1937.

ED CRYER, President.

LOW SENIOR CLASS

AS THE smallest class at Roosevelt this term, with only 121 members, the low seniors have among them a group of students capable of carrying on the leadership at Roosevelt in the fall semester. Many of these students have been prominent in social, scholastic and athletic activities during the spring semester.

Class leaders are James Mingus, president; Isabel Timmis, secretary-treasurer; and Ruth Wightman, cabinet representative. Representatives from the five homerooms include Elmer Shular, Ernest Kane, Katherine Andrews, and Dick Newman.

Katherine Andrews, Wynneth Colwell, Clotilda Pereira, Christine Wallace, Dick Doyal, Midori Inouye, and Ernest Kane are among those who excel in scholarship and are members of the Chi Delta. The following L12 girls were active this term in the counselors' offices, and library: Christine Wallace, Dorothy Peel, Wynneth Colwell, Lily Forsen, Madge McDonald, and June Norton. G.A.A. sports give several girls, including Isabel Timmis, Faye Witts, Elsie Troake, Etelvina Simoes, Helen Vanicek, Jean King, and Aida Nielsen a chance to show their abilities.

Although small in actual numbers, the low twelve class gives promise of being an active high senior group.

HIGH ELEVEN CLASS

TWO HUNDRED and fifty-four students comprise the up-and-coming H11 class, presided over by Rich Miller, Leta Craft, and Evelyn Dutray, president, vice-president and secretary respectively; with Marie Wuescher as the cabinet representative. The Chi Delta Honor Society claims 35 of these students, among whom are Bill Morris, William Repose, Joyce Proctor, Mitsu Koyama, and Tomika Oka. Dorothy Tudder, George Harris, Vera Black, and Barbara Huffacre have been especially active musically; while Muriel Watry and William Repose excel in the field of art. Many girls are active in G.A.A. sports, including Edith Holt, Delsie Malsbary, Erna Liebelt, Giselle Craven, Leta Craft, Katherine Shea, and Wilda Suerstedt. Fall football line-ups will find such players as Hal Clark, Norbert Ferreira, Louie Gomez, Ed Moliero, Bernie Doling, Bob Wilson, and Baird Thompson; according to reports, almost the entire team is to be made up of present H11 boys. This class is truly a group of "go-getters" and have done and will continue doing a great deal to uphold the standards and traditions of Roosevelt.

EXECUTIVE GROUPS

EXECUTIVE groups of Roosevelt High School are comprised of students who are outstanding leaders in many fields.

CLUBS

ECORIA—Ecoria membership is obtained by applications approved by the Ecoria board. Purpose of this club is to practice and enforce the proper etiquette at Roosevelt.

OFFICERS—Maria Denend, Bill Lasater, and Betty Smith are president, vice-president and secretary, respectively, for the Ecoria club. Joe Vogel takes over the duties of treasurer while Miss Alice Graham acts as club advisor.

CHI DELTA—Chi Delta is Roosevelt's Honor Society. Eligible members are those who have all A and B records, and must be in the high eleventh and twelfth grades.

OFFICERS—Presiding over the Chi Delta Club is Dorothy Clark with Isabel Timmis and Alice Borges assisting her as vice-president and secretary, respectively. Miss Louise Caldwell advises the club.

BLOCK "R"—Boys who have received their letters in major sports make up the membership of the Block "R" club. Keeping up school spirit and helping the school in every way possible are two very worthy traditions of the Block "R".

OFFICERS—The Block "R" society has as its president Jack McGann. Bill Petersen is vice-president, while John Matulich handles the duties of secretary-treasurer. Mr. Benjamin Gold, advisor.

HI-Y—Christian character is created, maintained, and extended throughout the school by members of this all-boys club. Each term new members are elected to fill vacancies.

OFFICERS—Perry Bardellini is president of the Hi-Y with Tobias Ellenburg as vice-president, and Ed Cryer as secretary. The club is advised by Mr. Paul Thomas.

HILLTOP WORKSHOP—This is the group who encourages dramatic productions.

OFFICERS—Jeanne Smith was elected to lead the Hilltop Workshop. Others who are leaders in this organization are: Jim Corbett, Nelson Dawson, Helen Marks and Bernie Campbell. The club is advised by Miss Marie Kinell.

G. A. A.—The G. A. A. is headed by Harriet Schlavin with Elsie Troake as vice-president and Erna Liebelt as secretary. Mrs. Lillian Schuette acts as their advisor.

Season Record

As far as basketball, baseball and track were concerned, the spring semester, 1937, could hardly be called a successful one for Roosevelt. Although brilliant performances were often recorded, violent upsets and disappointing defeats became more the rule than the exception. In truth, it was more a "down" than an "up" year for the trio of teams that carried the Teddie banner.

In basketball, Roosevelt ended in sixth place. The quintet began the season by scoring wins over Castlemont and San Leandro, but did more losing than winning the rest of the year. Tommy Fitzpatrick's baseball nine dropped their first two games against Castlemont and San Leandro. In their next time out the Teds slaughtered the Technical Bulldogs to break into the win column. Victory over the last place University Cubs, a lose to the strong Mack Warriors and wins over Fremont and Oakland gave the Roosevelt Club a .500 percentage in their seven games.

The Teddie track squad took the first two meets before getting knocked over by a mighty group of fieldmen from Tech. Next, the Uni. Cubs made up for their baseball defeat by taking the Teds. Drubbing McClymonds and being beaten by Fremont and Oakland completed the Roughrider track season.

Activities for the spring term of the G. A. A. began with the new girls' party on February 4. The opening of sports—badminton, baseball, volleyball, swimming, archery, tennis, and crew—was welcomed by about 250 girls. On March 13, some girls attended a Play Day at U. C., where they were invited to lunch and an exhibition of various sports. St. Patrick was honored on March 16 by a party; much fun was had in the Irish Potato race and the broom dance. On April 10, four girls attended the G. A. A. Federation meeting held at Hayward High. Games were played, a delegates' meeting was held, and a dance program was given by their girls. At the final meeting of the term, officers were installed and the Seniors bade farewell to their G. A. A. companions. The following day awards were presented at an assembly in the auditorium. Special thanks is extended to Mrs. Schuette, who advises the club, and to the members of the gym department who are: Miss Hansen, supervisor; Mrs. Schuette, Miss Hobbs, and Mrs. Dykes, secretary.

Setting the scenes for the various plays that are presented throughout the term and keeping the stage and properties in good condition is the objective of the Stage Craft class under the direction of Miss Juanita Nicholson.

Twice during the term this organization presented to audiences of students and parents of Roosevelt a demonstration of how they set the stage for various plays. Both of these performances were met with unanimous approval.

TEDDIE ALBUM

ON THE AVENUE 30 YEARS HENCE

WHAT happens to the Roosevelt grads?" you have asked. Well, we wondered, too. So, using "crystal-vision," we reveal a scene, year 1967.

Jack Stafford greets us in one of those contraptions so popular nowadays. In the other corner can be seen "Schoolboy" Leahy, the ball player. Bill isn't amazed because he just lost another baseball game. It seems Norm Pudlock, the guy with the grin, got a hit off him.

Jack McGann, in familiar rig, is debating whether or not he should quit trying to work his way through college. Jean Busch and "Lolly" Remmers are caught in a happy mood—their names are in print (on page seven, line two, of the telephone directory). Strolling down the avenue are Nelson Dawson and Jim Corbett, who have just taken a screen test. They should be wearing one (a screen, I mean). Dorothy Clark premeditates a test. She is planning to spring one on her pupils tomorrow. Howard Thomas is fondly looking over his Lariat, wondering how he ever missed that blonde in the front row of the G. A. A. photo. Toby Ellenburg—he's the guy with the track suit—has just won a race (the 50,000-meter walk). Patricia Cashman, now an exotic movie star, is doing what movie stars usually do—nothing. In the middle of everything is Ed Cryer, who is still wearing his block "R" sweater. Mary Reed asks, "Don't I know you?" to "Swede" Nelson, who struts by after receiving the appointment of a "G-man" (garbage man). That's all, except the shadow creeping up behind Ed—he's a cleaner of sweaters.

STAFF

IN THE hope that the upper classes of the future will continue to sponsor the publication of the Lariat, members of the senior class of June 1937 present this book. This edition has necessitated the cooperation of the entire senior and H11 classes who, together with the loyal students of the lower grades have enabled a Roosevelt tradition to be maintained.

Special thanks should be given to Elinor Kenaston for writing the Senior Log, to Jack McGann for his fine work in managing the sales, and to members of the faculty for their encouragement, advice, and help.

All students who have taken an active part in turning out this book should also be included when we say thank you. Barboni Studio furnished the pictures.
